Sails of Faith Unfurled

3-6 Oct 2025

" ...Faith is to religion what sails are to a ship..." ~ 159:3.8

The grounds and facilities of Santa Teresa Spirituality Centre

This year's ANZURA Annual Conference will be held 3–6 October at the lovely Santa Teresa Spirituality Centre, which is situated in Ormiston, Brisbane on beautifully landscaped grounds overlooking Moreton Bay.

Theme

The Sails of Faith Unfurled – "Faith is to religion what sails are to a ship" (159:3.8)

In this physical world, the free-will act of faith by a human mind comes perhaps as close as is possible to actual creation in that it enables what was once only an idea to become real. Even though great physical effort might also be pressed to the task it can usually be said that faith was the essential beginning, like a fundamental "atomic" particle, without which the idea would not have progressed at all.

Sometimes faith is more like a signal, the way the sail of a ship unfurled signals willingness to run with the wind. And for readers of The Urantia Book, faith is the act of beginning on page one feeling like an insect lost on a vast surface of paper and ink (57 square metres in the soft-cover edition) but proceeding anyway, hopefully with an eventual happy transition to a familiar landscape. Here the mind in pursuit of knowledge shows its natural tendency to boldness in matters not completely understood, which is a form of faith in its own ability to climb into trouble and to climb back out again for a gainful experience overall.

On top of all these ways of appreciating faith, as necessary, marvellous, miraculous or surprising, The Urantia Book offers many specifics relating to the operation of mind, spirit, personality, and closeness to God.

It is therefore proposed that in the conduct of the talks and exercises of ANZURA Conference 2025 participants will be gently surrounded with opportunities to appreciate the special ability of the human mind to deal in matters of faith, with high probability of better understanding.

The world is filled with hungry souls who famish in the very presence of the bread of life; men die searching for the very God who lives within them. Men seek for the treasures of the kingdom with yearning hearts and weary feet when they are all within the immediate grasp of living faith. Faith is to religion what sails are to a ship*; it is an addition of power, not an added burden of life. There is but one struggle for those who enter the kingdom, and that is to fight the good fight of faith. The believer has only one battle, and that is against doubt — unbelief.* 159:3.8 (1766.4) emphasis added

Venue

Ormiston is a bay-side suburb about 22km east of Brisbane City Hall and about 20km south of Brisbane Airport. The venue is dedicated to the traditional concept of the religious retreat so, in addition to very comfortable accommodation close to the meeting room and dining room, there is ample opportunity for quiet reflection and prayer in the several places within the gardens provided for that purpose, including a small chapel and an outdoor labyrinth.

Transport

Ormiston train station is the closest approach by public transport: Airtrain from Brisbane Airport to Central, then city train to Ormiston, which is the second-last stop on the Cleveland line. There is a 2km gap between the train station and the venue. It's an easy walk as it's all flat along Wellington Street or perhaps call a taxi or Uber. Taxi direct from the airport over the Gateway Bridge (about 20km) is also a fast but a more expensive option.
